Call for Papers

We would like to cordially invite you to participate in the upcoming 9th IEEE International Conference on Information Technology and Applications in Biomedicine (ITAB 2009). You can submit a paper or a proposal for a special session.

The overall objective of ITAB 2009 is to cover the state of the art of Information Technology Applications in Biomedicine targeting in the offering of a better service to the citizen. The theme of the conference will be: Citizen Centered e-Health Systems in a Global Healthcare Environment.

ITAB 2009 marks the continuation of the previous 8 successful conferences held in Prague in 1997, in Washington DC in 1998, in Amsterdam in 1999, in Virginia in 2000, in Birmingham in 2003, in Ioannina in 2006, in Tokyo in 2007, and in Shenzhen in 2008.

This year's ITAB will be held in November 5-7, in the sunny island of Cyprus, an island with a huge recorded history and cultural heritage.

Papers and special sessions covering a broad spectrum of themes are invited but not limited to the following tracks:

- Biomedical Signal Processing and Analysis
- Biomedical Image Processing and Analysis
- Bioinformatics and Computational Biology
- Systems Biology and Modeling Methodologies
- Diagnostic and Therapeutic Systems
- e-Health Systems, m-Health Systems, and Telemedicine Systems.

Paper Submission and Publication:

The submissions should contain original, high quality, not submitted or published elsewhere work. Papers should strictly follow IEEE format and have a page limit of 4 pages. All accepted papers will be included in the proceedings of ITAB 2009 that will be published by the IEEE (expecting confirmation soon). Extended versions of selected papers of the conference will be invited for publication in special issues of the IEEE Transactions on Information Technology in
